

The FCC should not implement any law that lessons or conflicts with the existing Indiana Telephone Privacy Law. In the past I received numerous unwanted and unsolicited calls. Since the implementation of the Indiana law, I receive, maybe, one or two calls. This has made my home life much more enjoyable.

It is inconceivable to me that being elected on the premis of returning power to the people at lower governmental levels that the Republican Party would create more federal controls over the states/local governments.